International Journal of Action Research
Volume 12, Issues 1-3, 2016

Editorials
Editorials
Danilo Streck 5-7, 113-115, 221-223

Articles

Action Research as a leadership strategy for innovation:
The case of a global high-technology organisation
Grant Allen, Ken Dovey 8-37

How can teachers motivate students to study theoretical modules in public relations?
Layla AlSager 272-293

Participatory Action Research in Argentina:
New expressions at the field of social movement’s militant action. An account of experience
Marina Ampudia 191-215

University students’ support to an NGO that helps children with cancer: Lessons learned in thirteen academic projects
João Alberto Arantes do Amaral, Erica Okazaki 38-58

Challenges of participation in cross-cultural Action Research
Sirkku Männikkö Barbutiu 224-247

Retrieving a philosophy of practical knowing for Action Research
David Coghlan 84-107
Recognising participants’ professional identities through analysis of narratives in educational Action Research
   Eleni Katsarou, Vassilis Tsafos 248-271

Participatory hierarchies: A challenge in organizational Action Research
   Marianne Kristiansen, Jørgen Bloch-Poulsen 144-171

‘There and back again’:
International Collaboration for Participatory Health Researchers’ journeys to evidence based practice and practice based evidence
   Wendy Madsen 294-314

Paulo Freire and the methodology of thematic investigation for permanent teacher education
   Ana Maria Saul, Alexandre Saul 59-83

Commitment and regulation:
Ethics in research and the human sciences
   Emil A. Sobottka 116-143

“Today we are treated like a human being!”
Methodological strategies of Action Research with family farmers’ practitioners of the slash-and-burn system in Southern Brazil
   Cintia Uller Gómez, Reney Dorow 172-190

Book Review

Action Research and democracy from the Scandinavian perspective

Book Review by
   Telmo Adams, Paloma Daudt, Carolina Nunes Ramos 315-324