

International Journal of Action Research

Volume 11, Issues 1-3, 2015

Special issue:

Action Research perspectives in German social science 2015

Editors: Werner Fricke, Sabine Pfeiffer

Editorials

Editorial: Action Research perspectives in German social science 2015 Werner Fricke, Sabine Pfeiffer	5-13
Editorials to issue 3 Danilo Streck	233-235

Articles

Development-oriented learning in a project team. Applying an interactive research approach Gunilla Albinsson	289-316
Dialogic feedforward in group coaching Helle Alrø, Poul Nørgård Dahl	317-338
Gentrification, social action and “role-playing”: Experiences garnered on the outskirts of Hamburg Peter Birke, Florian Hohenstatt, Moritz Rinn	195-227
Precariousness meets passion – Fields of conflict in editorial and social work Kristin Carls	40-78
Homage to Fals Borda: A report from III International Symposium of Action and Participatory research (Bogotá, June 22-25, 2015) Cheron Zanini Moretti, Danilo R. Streck	364-374

Workplace ethnographies – an underestimated source of subject-oriented work research Andrea Gabler	119-145
Reflexive and experience-based trust and participatory research: Concept and methods to meet complexity and uncertainty in organisations Norbert Huchler, Stefan Sauer	146-173
“The most important safety device is you!” On the specific nature of high-tech work process knowledge Ines Langemeyer	14-39
Research for whom? Labour sociology between observation, co-management and social critique Nicole Mayer-Ahuja	79-92
Action Research and intercultural dialogue: An experience with Brazilian Indians Ruth Pavan, Maria Cristina Lima Paniago, José Licínio Backes	339-363
Participation in enterprises and in research: The case of innovation work Stephanie Porschen-Hueck, Judith Neumer	174-194
Supporting community governance in boreal forests by introducing participatory-GIS through Action Research Mahesh Poudyal, Gun Lidestav, Per Sandström, Stefan Sandström	236-264
Developing a mental health programme for refugees based on participatory Action Research: An experience from São Paulo, Brazil Carmen L. A. de Santana, Francisco Lotufo Neto	265-288
Participatory research on innovation – Methodological approaches to challenges in the field and practical experiences Daniela Wühr, Sabine Pfeiffer, Petra Schütt	93-118